

Affordable, quality school clothes

Pepkor Clothing (PepClo) manufactures 75% of all school clothes sold in South Africa.

Our ability to produce locally at a low cost, together with the group's extensive distribution network, enables us to provide a school outfit for a Grade 1 child for under R100.

Through our six factory divisions, we strive continually to improve our production methods and the quality of our products and service, while remaining the lowest-cost manufacturer.

Not only do we aim to provide our customers with affordable school clothes for their children, we also aim to provide the best quality possible. Quality is the cornerstone of our business, and all our products are randomly audited, on a daily basis, using a statistical model called the PEP Clothing Defect Classification List. Certain products comply with the highly stringent South African Bureau of Standards (SABS). As an organisation, we rely heavily on our own Quality Assurance System.

PepClo has a wide and reliable raw-material sourcing network, both locally and internationally.

All our fabrics are tested in our sophisticated laboratory to ensure adherence to customer specifications.

It all comes together in our people. We would not be able to achieve our manufacturing output if it were not for our dedicated employees. To maximise the efficiencies of our equipment and technology, our employees are trained continuously. Our Skills Training Centre has won various awards over several years, both locally and nationally.

PRODUCT + COMMUNITIES + EMPLOYEES

PepClo is currently the largest clothing manufacturer under one roof in southern Africa, employing over 2 000 people and delivering more than 11 million garments annually to our retail customers.
